

SE via Hancock Expressway

This 17 mile cycling trek reaches into the Southeast side of the city coming within sight of the Colorado Springs airport. It is a mostly flat ride but does include a few moderate hills (i.e. Westbound on East Fountain Blvd.) toward the end of the ride. This two hour adventure takes you past two sides of the Evergreen Cemetery and through a variety of neighborhoods. Most of the streets are quiet residential but there are some four lane cross streets included. The busier streets have adequate margins for cyclists and should not present a problem. Explore this side of town for a change of scenery and a little more demanding social ride.
